Which Raincoat to Bring for Camp

Whilst we hope not to see the rain it is essential to bring a good quality raincoat.

Please see the notes below to gain a few pointers on which is the best type of raincoat to bring for your camp at Somerset.

Raincoats

- The raincoat must be well-fitted but with enough room for clothing to fit underneath
- The length must be about mid-thigh (covers your bottom) – anything shorter and clothing gets too wet.
- Your raincoat must be lightweight as you will be carrying it – either in a rucksack or daypack on an expedition or bushwalk, or in a daypack to activities.
- Your raincoat must have a hood
- A raincoat which is seam sealed is a good idea
- Ponchos, or Parkas or coats or raincoats with fabric lining, are not suitable.
